

Computer Support

Each day most of us use a computer, tablet or IPAD to catch up on e-mail, shop on-line, check the Community of Joy webpage, and follow family and friends on Facebook, store photos, tweet, blog, watch videos and movies. Have you ever gotten stuck and didn't know what to do or who to call? Did you know that there are members of our church family that are available to help you troubleshoot your problem?

Members of the Business Services Committee have an interest in computers and have volunteered to help. Our goal is to provide support for the Church office and members as needed. Please call the list of volunteers in the following order.

1. Lance Miller - 915-9473
2. Jerry Mostrog - 922-3367
3. Melanie Pederson - 608-692-0458

We have additional resources available if we aren't able to resolve your computer issues. Sue Davis has offered to provide telephone support for members of Community of Joy. If she isn't able to resolve your issue by phone, she will work with you to schedule an onsite visit to your home for a nominal fee.

- Sue Davis - 501-622-9551. Available 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

In addition, Hot Springs Village is blessed to have a group of folks that provide education and support on computer software and hardware. You may have heard of this group, The Computer Club of Hot Springs Village (CCHSV). The Computer Club provides classes, special interest groups that include how to use a Kindle, create a spreadsheet, design cards and provide informational speakers at monthly meetings. This group is committed to volunteering to help club members and as well as community residents. You can learn more about the Computer Club by visiting their website at <http://www.cchsv.com/>

Happy Computing!
